WEDGWOOD AND BENTLEY'S

INTAGLIOS for SEALS and RINGS,

Sold here, by Appointment of the Proprietors

WEDGWOOD and BENTLEY.

Sept. 1, 1779.

1-55

C A T A L O G U E.

AS these Intaglios are made chiefly of an artificial Stone, which is an entirely new Discovery, and that has very singular and valuable Properties, a brief Description of it may be acceptable to the Purchasers and the Public.

The Proprietors call this Material Artificial Basaltes, because, when unpolished, it greatly resembles that Stone in its Appearance and its Properties.

This artificial Stone is nearly of the same Colour as the natural one ; it strikes Fire with Steel ; resists the Attacks of the strongest Acids, and all other chemical Menstrua ; is a Touchstone to Copper, Silver, and Gold ; and may be repeatedly made red hot in a Furnace, without receiving the least Damage.

The Proprietors have also discovered that this hard Stone takes an extremely fine Polish ; and that, when polished, the Seals have the Appearance of the most beautiful black Jasper, and may then, with Propriety, be distinguished by that Name.

The same Intaglios are now also made with blue encaustic Grounds, very exactly imitating the black and blue Onyxes : and likewise of another fine artificial Stone, or blue Jasper, that takes as good a Polish as Turquois Stone, or Lapis Lazuli, and that is not inferior in Beauty to those Stones.

The Intaglios in the following Catalogue are chiefly taken from fine antique Gems, and are much the truest and most valuable Copies of the exquisite Works of Antiquity in this Kind that modern Times have produced; the Design, Character, and Sharpness of the original Engravings being preserved with the utmost Precision.

Many of these Seals are made with Shanks of the same Stone, highly polished; and particularly a complete Set of CYPHERS, consisting of all the Combinations of two Letters: these require no mounting; but may be finished with Gold or gilt Ornaments, according to the Taste of the Purchasers.

Those who favour the Proprietors with their Orders will please to direct them to Wedgwood and Bentley, in Greek-street, Soho, London; or at their Works at Etruria, Staffordshire; and at the same Time be so good as to mention the Numbers and Subjects of the Intaglios, to prevent Mistakes: they will also please to observe the several Distinctions of Basaltes, black Jasper, black and blue Onyx, Lapis Lazuli, and Turquois Stone, (the darker blue Jasper resembling the former, and the lighter blue the latter) as the Intaglios are now made in Imitation of all these Stones.
